

I believe it is very beneficial to keep the Christian radio stations the same. By requiring more staff and local board members, this will require designated funds to be spent elsewhere. Because many Christian radio stations are listener supported, we as the supporters, should be able to determine how our money is spent. I choose to spend it the way that Air1 Radio Network uses it, because they have developed a system that allows minimal staff to cover the entire nation with a fantastic positive radio station, of which I listen to every day. It is important that Christian staff members are involved in this radio station, because they understand the mission and vision that the radio station possesses.
